5 Changes to OPP Entitlement Rules

The following changes are to be applied to the OPP functionality which was introduced in R63. These new changes will only apply for the new paternity absences created after the release date i.e from 26-Jul-2025

The criteria for employees to be entitled to Occupational Paternity Pay has been changed as follows:

- An employee who has completed 12 months service with one or more NHS employers at the start of the leave period being taken will be eligible to receive the OPP.
- Where the paternity leave is taken for the full 2 weeks, an employee who has completed 12 months service with one or more NHS Employers at the start of the paternity leave will be eligible for 14 Days of OPP.
- Where the leave is split and taken as 2 separate weeks, 12 months continuous service will be checked at the start date of each of the periods of leave. In some cases, this may mean that at the start of the first period of leave an employee does not have 12 months service and the SPP rules would apply with no payment of OPP. When the second period of leave is taken the employee may have achieved the 12 months service and as such would be entitled to a week of OPP.

The OPP form has been amended to accommodate the above changes to the OPP entitlement rules as below:

- 'OPP Eligibility Date' is renamed as 'OPP Eligibility Date1' and this will be calculated as:
 - $\text{OPP Eligibility Date1} = \text{Start Date of the 1}^{\text{st}} \text{Paternity Absence} - 365 \text{ Days}$
- New field 'OPP Eligibility Date2' has been added to the form. This will be populated only when the paternity leave is split into two weeks, and this will be calculated as:
 - $\text{OPP Eligibility Date2} = \text{Start Date of the 2}^{\text{nd}} \text{Paternity Absence} - 365 \text{ Days}$

The above calculations will apply only to the paternity absences created after the release date i.e 26th July 2025.

A new Error message has been introduced with this change to check if there exists a paternity absence with later start date when:

- Updates are made to the actual start date/ end date/ duration on the existing paternity absence with an earlier start date and linked to the same paternity as the later paternity absence.
- Deleting the existing paternity absence record with an earlier start date linked to the same paternity as the later paternity absence.
- Inserting a new paternity absence with an earlier start date than the existing paternity absence linked to the same paternity.

OK

The following examples will explain how the OPP entitlement will be populated on the amended OPP form as per the new rules following this change:

Case 1: Paternity Absence in single episode for 14 days

In case 1 paternity absence is recorded for 14 days in single episode then the OPP entitlement will be populated on OPP form as per the following details:

(i) If an employee has completed 12 months service at the start date of paternity absence i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date1 \geq Continuous Service Date then the OPP entitlement will be:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	14	0	14
Days Taken	0	0	0
Days Remaining	14	0	14

(ii) If an employee has not completed 12 months service at the start date of paternity absence i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date1 $<$ Continuous Service Date then the OPP entitlement will be populated upon creation of paternity absence as detailed below:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	0	14	14
Days Taken	0	0	0
Days Remaining	0	14	14

Case 2: Paternity Absence in 2 split weeks

In case 2 paternity absence is recorded in split weeks in two episodes then the OPP entitlement will be populated on OPP form as per the following details:

(i) If an employee has completed 12 months service at the start date of the first paternity absence i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date1 \geq Continuous Service Date then the OPP entitlement will be:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	14	0	14
Days Taken	0	0	0
Days Remaining	14	0	14

(ii) If an employee has not completed 12 months service at the start date of the first paternity absence i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date1 < Continuous Service Date then the OPP entitlement at the time first paternity absence is created will be:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	0	7	7
Days Taken	0	0	0
Days Remaining	0	7	7

If an employee has completed the 12 months service at the start date of the second paternity absence i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date2 >= Continuous Service Date, then the OPP entitlement at the time second paternity absence is created will be updated to:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	7	7	14
Days Taken	0	7	7
Days Remaining	7	0	7

OR

If an employee has not completed the 12 months service at the start date of the second paternity absence also i.e. where the OPP Eligibility Date2 < Continuous Service Date, then the OPP entitlement at the time second paternity absence is created will be updated to:

	Full	Nil	Total
Entitlement	0	14	14
Days Taken	0	7	7
Days Remaining	0	7	7

Note: Currently there is an issue which prevents the start date being amended on the paternity absence within the same pay period, an attempt to do so will result in the following error message being displayed:

The screenshot displays the 'Paternity Birth' record entry screen. The 'Type' is set to 'Paternity Birth' and the 'Category' is also 'Paternity Birth'. The 'Occurrence' is '1'. The 'Due Date' is '10-JUN-2025'. The 'Notified' date is '01-MAY-2025'. The 'Projected Start' date is empty, and the 'Actual Start' date is '12-JUN-2025'. The 'End' date is '18-JUN-2025'. The 'Duration' is '7' days. An error message box is overlaid on the screen, stating: 'Paternity start date must be the same as initial absence start date. Update absence record to change the start date if required'. The error box has an 'OK' button. Below the error box, there is a 'Balance Information' section with 'Associated Element' set to 'Absence NHS', 'Running Total' set to '7', and 'In Current Year' set to '7'. There are also radio buttons for 'Hours (B)', 'Days' (selected), and 'No Balance (G)'. A 'Calculate Duration' button is visible in the top right corner of the form.
